Joint Smashing Unconstitutional.

The Kansas supreme court Saturday last, affirmed the judgment of the district court of Shawnee county in the case of the state against Balle Stark. Stark was one of Carrie Nation's assistants in joint smashing. In one of their raids they destroyed property which led to arrests. Stark was fined $25 and costs, the whole amounting to $100. He appealed to the supreme court, claiming among other things, that a saloon being under the ban of the law, might be destroyed by any citizen without violation of the law. In its syllabus the court says:

"Places where intoxicating liquors are sold or kept for sale, or places where persons are permitted to resort for the purpose of drinking the same, are declared by law to be common nuisances. This fact, however, does not justify their abatement by any person or persons without process of law. They can be abated only by a prosecution, instituted in behalf of the public by the proper officers. The destruction or injury to the property used in aid of the maintenance of such nuisances, except in the manner provided by the statutes, is a trespass."

Is There a Bounty Due Them?

A special from New York which will interest any surviving soldier of the Spanish-American war who enlisted in the service as a member of some volunteer organization, says:

"A Brooklyn attorney, having occasion to look through the federal statute, came across a bounty law, under which all volunteer soldiers in the late war are entitled to receive $192 in addition to what the government has already paid them. During the civil war the government paid a bounty of $300, but after the war was over this law was repealed. Subsequently, however, in order to provide for future contingencies, congress passed another law providing for the payment of $192 as bounty money. It is under this law that the Brooklyn attorney has undertaken to collect bounties for several thousand New York volunteers; and the matter is now pending before Attorney General Knox, at Washington. The attorney also discovered a New York state statute, under which the volunteers of that state are entitled to an additional bounty of $54. Other states probably have similar laws that were not repealed after the close of the civil war. It is estimated that it will cost the government not less than $5,000,000 to pay off the bounty claims which will be demanded under the law discovered."

If the New York lawyer succeeds in establishing the claims of the New York volunteers for the bounty, other states will follow suit, and there are an hundred discharged soldiers properly credited to Holt county who are eligible to put in their claim for their $192.

Orange Blossoms.

The Methodist church Wednesday evening of this week, October 9th, 1901, was filled with invited guests to witness the marriage of Mr. Frank L. Roeker and Miss Rosie S. Bailey. The altar of the church had been handsomely decorated with palms and potted plants. Behind a bank of palms and ferns, the symphony orchestra was seated and rendered special numbers suitable to the occasion.

The bride party came to the altar down the north aisle, preceded by the ushers, Paul Frye and George Poynter, and their attendants, Mr. Daniel Kunkel, Jr., and Miss Mabel Graham, the orchestra rendering a beautiful wedding march. They took their places under a beautiful monogram, "E. B.", composed of white Marguerite and scarlet salvia splendid blossoms.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Crampson, pastor of the M. E. church. The bride was richly and tastefully robed in a gown of brown Venetian cloth with turquoise blue trimmings, and her maid wore a gown of brown broadcloth, with white applique and felt trimmings.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple were driven to Forest City, where they took their departure for St. Louis, for a two weeks' stay, when they will return to this city.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bailey, of this city, and is a young lady of many beautiful traits of character and one who is deservedly popular among a large circle of friends whom she has won by her charming personality. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roeker, and has always been popular among his associates. He is an industrious young man, and is a young farmer, who attends strictly to his business, with the sole object of making it pay. There are no better or more worthy young people in our county, and they certainly start out in life together under the most favorable conditions, and we feel that their life will be a happy and prosperous one. The presents to the bride which were displayed at the home, were many and handsome, testifying to the high esteem in which the bride is held.

Among those from a distance in attendance were: Tom Bailey and wife,

J. E. Davis and wife, Wright Bartholomew, Rock Port; Gus Roeker and wife and Miss Emma Staib, Mound City; Elsa Hlock, St. Joseph.

Cupid's Captives.

For some time it has been rumored in Oregon society that one of our most popular young ladies, who from young girlhood has grown up in our midst, was about to pass from the paternal roof to take with her light and joy to the home of another. We refer to Miss Maude, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Montgomery, of this city. The rumor developed into a fact as appeared by the wedding invitations that were issued. The happy bridegroom is Edward Fiegenbaum, a jeweler of Geneva, Nebraska, and who several years ago was engaged in the same business in our city.

The church was neatly decorated in festoons, the altar being banked with potted palms and other plants. Just before the arrival of the wedding party, Miss Gertrude Stock sang a beautiful love song, "Answer," by Robyns.

The ceremony was performed at 11 p. m., Tuesday, October 9th, 1901, the bride party entered, preceded by the ushers, Messrs. Dr. Jonas Whitmer and Charles Zachman, and attendants, Miss Leona Schulte and Charles Bunker. The party passed down the aisle to the chancel to the music of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by the sister of the bride, Mrs. Henry Fiegenbaum. Underneath a large monogram in red and green stood the contracting parties, while the bride's pastor, Rev. Henry A. Sawyer, spoke the words that made these two very excellent young people, husband and wife.

Upon the benediction being performed the bride party retired to the strains of a beautiful march, and they and relatives repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery where a reception and luncheon was given, and at 1:30 p. m., Mr. and Mrs. Fiegenbaum took their departure for a brief bridal trip, and after October 20th will be at home at Geneva, Nebraska, where the groom has just completed a cozy cottage.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of castor blue de soie, trimmed elaborately in lace medallions and embroidered chiffon. The maid of honor wore a handsome gown of castor cloth, with pink and brown trimmings.

The bride presents were numerous and handsome, evincing the high regard in which they are held by their friends. Both young people are very popular with a large circle of friends, and all unite in wishing them the very best of the world affords.

Those present from a distance were: Mrs. Louis Fiegenbaum and daughter, Lucie, and Mrs. S. Shickley, of Geneva, Nebraska; Mrs. Clarence Pickenbrock, of Elkhart, Iowa; Mr. Fred Saxner, of Ankeny, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Montgomery, Mound City; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Austin, Forest City; Mr. H. Montgomery and children, of Skidmore. Rev. H. Fiegenbaum, St. Joseph.

His 71st Mile Post.

Friday of last week, was a gala, as well as a happy, joyous day out at Uncle Robert Patterson's. All his children, seven sons and one daughter, and his twenty grand-children and one great-grand-child assembled and made the occasion an eventful one in the history of Uncle Robert. It was seventy-one years ago, October 4th, that Uncle Robert first saw the light of day. It was in the County Donegal, Ireland.

He came to this country in 1842 and landed at Weston, in Platte county, and drove by ox team to Savannah, where his brother Henry was then farming. In 1857 he was married to Thelma Jane Kinder near Savannah. In 1858 he located on his present farm in Holt county, and has one of the very best farms in our county, together with one of the very best residences—heated by steam, and all the up-to-date accommodations, with the exception of electric lights. He is the owner of 1000 acres of land in this county, and is in every way highly prosperous and enjoys that prosperity.

He served in the Mexican war as a member of Capt. Rogers company of Powell's battalion, enlisting at Savannah. In 1852 he went to California and after farming there for four years he returned to this country. His surviving children are James, Bailey, Robert, George, John, William, Charles, and Mrs. Charles Meyer. His great-grand-child is now Mrs. Chris Imboden, all of whom are reasonably prosperous. His son Robert is now in business at Fort Arthur, Texas, and is doing well. He was accompanied on his visit with his father by a Mr. Christ Gantz, one of Texas' large and successful cattle raisers.

Rain fall is below normal 18 inches. Temperature is 3.4° above normal. A rain fall of 4.88 inches occurred at Galveston on the 7th inst., and 9.20 inches on the 8th inst. Everything was deluged with water.

The excess of rain in the Atlantic and Eastern Gulf states still continues. Charleston, S. C., and Savannah, Ga., alone are excessively dry. The upper Missouri valley shows a gain while the lower still is losing. Columbia being the center of the dry region. Dubuque, Davenport, Des Moines, St. Louis, Cincinnati are still very dry. Pocatello, Idaho, and Oklahoma City have the lowest percentage (44) of precipitation for the season. Columbia's is 45. The average annual amounts of the other two, however, is much less, especially Pocatello.

—Wes Holgin, of Hickory township, was looking after business interests in Oregon, this week. James Huatt, of Maitland, was also here.

—Odell & Mathews have opened a general repair shop, just west of the opera house. They are prepared to repair anything from a sewing machine to a threshing machine.

—Mrs. Lulu Markor and daughter, Emma, of St. Louis, were visiting relatives and friends in Oregon, this week. They were en-route to White Cloud, Kansas, for a visit with relatives.

—Elwood McDonald, wife and son Daniel IV., and their little daughter, came up last Saturday to visit for a few days with Grandpa and Grandma Daniel Kunkel, II, and also to "play horse" with Daniel Kunkel III.

—W. T. Carrington, state superintendent of schools will be in Forest City Saturday, October 19th, and address the farmers institute on that day. Teachers should be there to hear him and meet him personally.

—We are sorry to learn that Wes Wehrli, P. M., at Mound City, is confined to his home with fever. We hope his indisposition will only be for a short time, and that he will soon be able to be at his post of duty again.

—The establishment of a bank at Bigelow now seems to be assured, and in the course of about six weeks it is expected it will be opened for business. Parties interested as stockholders held a meeting at Bigelow Thursday of last week, and selected A. W. Channing, president, John C. Hinkle, vice president, T. O. Davis, secretary. These with George Conway and C. C. Catron, constitute the new board of directors. They will at once proceed to put up a bank building, and as soon as this is completed will open for business.

—Miss Catherine Summers, of Maitland, accompanied by her father, Bud Summers, and R. G. McIntyre, were in town Wednesday, hunting subscribers for the Kansas City World. Miss Catherine being one of the contestants for the piano offered by that paper for the young ladies receiving the most votes. The voting closes next Saturday evening. Thursday morning she was in second place, being only 1400 votes behind first place. We hope that she will win it. Milt Brumbaugh and John Bishop are "on the road" in her interest, working Corns, Craig, Bigelow and other points, this week.

County Court.

Our county court was in session for three days this week, and promptly adjourned to routine work and adjourned. They made a tour of inspection of the fill being put in near the Swope place on the road near Mound City, and seemed satisfied with the manner in which the work was being done.

The railroad assessment as certified to the county clerk by the state board of equalization, was taken up by the court and the levy was ordered of record: State, $10 on the $100 valuation; road, 10c; road and bridge, 10c school, 41c; school building and other purposes, 29c. For city purposes they will pay on the following levies: Mound City, 85c; Bigelow, Craig, Maitland and Corns, 55c each and Forest City, 35c.

The citizens of Craig and Union township filed a remonstrance, protesting against the establishing of a saloon in that township.

The Atchison and Nebraska railroad owning the bridge across the river at Rule, has been delinquent for county taxes for the years 1897-8-9 and 1900. The court had ordered suit brought against the company. Mr. Pollard, of Omaha, the tax agent of the company appeared before the court with the view of obtaining a satisfactory adjustment of the county's claim. The company's reason for non payment was upon the grounds that the assessment was extraordinary high, being near $150,000. The state board at its recent session reduced this valuation to $100,000. The county court after considering the matter and consultation with the county's attorneys agreed to settle on a basis of $91,984 valuation, the company to pay the attorney's fees, which settled the county for the delinquent taxes for state, county and school purposes the sum of $1,750. This proposition was finally accepted by the company's agent. When all the factors figuring in a case of this kind, cost of litigation in the United States courts, vexatious delays, and the failure for years to secure the use and benefit of the money, the settlement is a very excellent one for the county, and the court is to be congratulated on securing so favorable an adjustment of the vexatious question.

W. C. Pearson filed his bond for $500 as a druggist not to adulterate drugs and liquors.

Circuit Clerk Hoge filed his report for August term of circuit court. Jury script issued, $292; fees imposed, $600; amount of fines collected, $325.

O. A. Hunter, coroner-elect, having failed to qualify, the court appointed Dr. S. W. Aiken to fill the position.

The court made an inspection of the Poor Farm and found everything in most excellent condition.

The court ordered warrants for $325 in payment for two bridges built by Giligan & Co.

To Teachers in Missouri.

You are respectfully requested and urged to observe the first Friday in November appropriately to the memory of Eugene Field, the Patron Saint of all childhood.

Programs for the day can be had free by enclosing a one cent stamp, and addressing J. W. Goodwin, secretary and treasurer, Sedalia, Mo.

—Will F. Waller, who a number of years ago was identified with this paper, has removed from Sedalia to Kansas City, and will engage in the real estate business there. We don't care where he chooses to locate, we only wish him abundant success.

—M. P. Miles and wife, of New Point, are visiting with relatives in Miami county, Ohio, leaving Monday of this week. Sherman Cartwright and wife and Milt Price of the same place, also left Monday for a visit with relatives in Indiana. They will be absent about thirty days.

—R. J. Hansman left this week for Anadarko, Oklahoma, where he will engage in the harness, buggy, wagon and implement business. He is having a two-story building 50x100 feet erected, and a former Oregon citizen, Otto Martin, is doing the work. We wish Bob success in his new home.

—John H. Judy, Mrs. Rebecca Strickland and Mrs. John H. Castlin are all near Springfield, Missouri, at the bedside of Uncle James Judy, who several weeks ago received a stroke of paralysis and is not expected to live. John H. Judy is a brother and the two ladies are daughters to James Judy—Craig Leader.

—Hub Jones, who left here for Sioux City a few months ago, has again become a resident of this city. He has been employed by the Forest City Mill company as traveling salesman. He was accompanied by his two sons, Charles and Jesse. Mrs. Jones and the other children are visiting relatives at McComb, Ill.—Jeffersonian.

—List of unclaimed letters remaining in the postoffice at Oregon, Mo., for the week ending October 11, 1901: Mrs. Catherine E. Buecher, care, Wm. Stipes, S. C. Slaughter, M. D. and Mary Storey. When calling for these letters, please say they were "advertised." Office hours from 7:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

THOMAS CURRY, P. M.

—P. M. Flinn and family, A. J. Kelley and family and the family of Joe Conley, all left at noon yesterday for Anadarko, O. T., where they will make their future home. Mr. Flinn is engaged in the real estate business. Mr. Conley who went to Anadarko some time ago is contracting and brick laying and Mr. Kelley will follow the carpenter business.

—Mart Cordrey, of near Troy, Kansas, has purchased from his brother, James Cordrey, of this county, the Giles A. Laughlin home place of 40 acres in Forbes township, paying $1,000. He will not remove to Holt county until next spring. Mr. Cordrey is a first-class carpenter, and has so much work in this county that he has decided to remove here.

—Miss Blanche, daughter of Jacob Bucher, reached her sixteenth mile post Thursday of last week, October 3d, 1901, and her parents took the occasion to tender her friends the most cordial reception. Some fifty guests were present, and the evening was most happily passed in music, games, and an elegant luncheon. The little lady received a number of handsome tokens of good will.

—"We have run mad in this country," truthfully declares that influential Democratic paper, the Jefferson City Tribune, "over freedom—especially freedom of speech. We permit all sorts of intemperate abuse and villainous doctrines to be proclaimed from press and platform, until when the seeds thus sown take root in some lunatic's mind and he goes off and kills somebody we hang him and let the more intelligent and responsible instigator who 'set him on fire, go free.'"

Who Wants a Home?

Having disposed of my interests in Oregon and having purchased property at Anadarko, O. T. I will sell my new 7-room residence, a fine cistern, handy cellar and a good large well built barn. Lot is 80x100, located in a quiet neighborhood, two blocks to court house. I have put no price on my home and will sell to the party giving me the most.

I will also sell on good long easy terms

R. J. HANSMAN, Oregon, Mo.

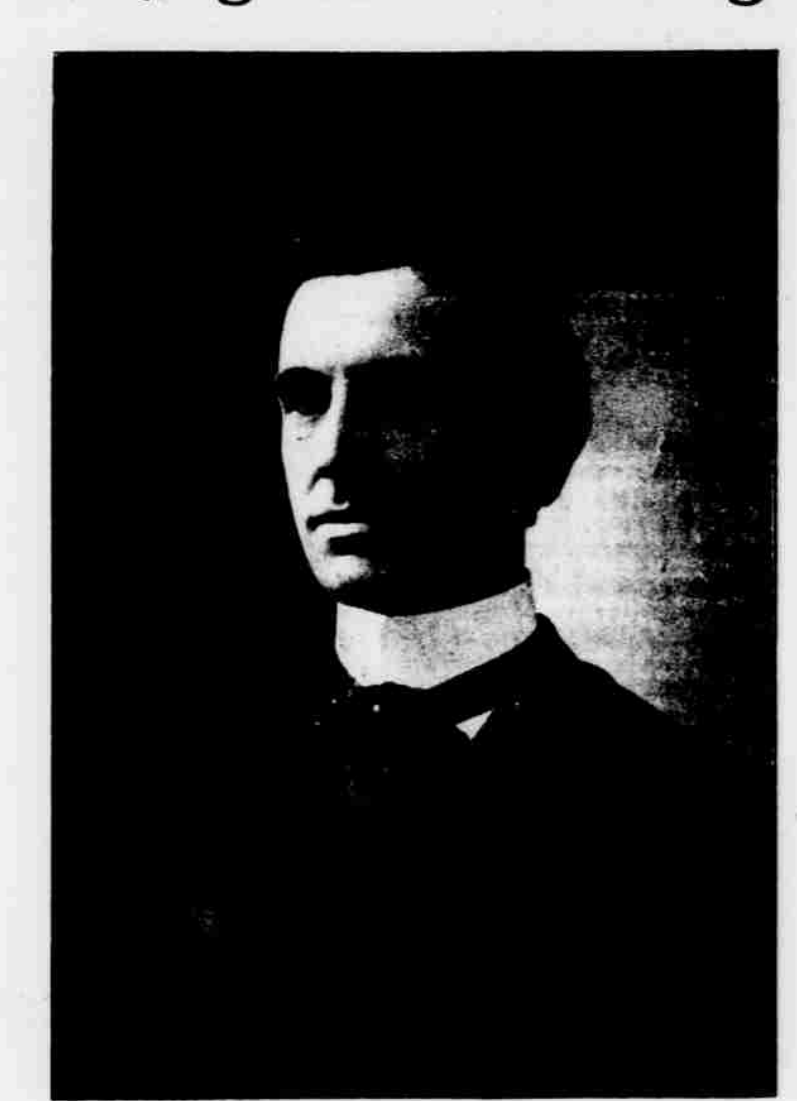

—Few people perhaps appreciate the bigness of the Holt county peach crop this year. Every tree in the county has been burdened almost to breaking and every housewife has been putting up the fruit in all its preservable forms in quantities calculated to supply the household wants for at least a decade. The grocers report an unparalleled demand for sugar and the dealers in jars and cans have been driven into close corners half a dozen times during the season, being obliged to wire rush orders quite often. If all the peaches put up in the county could be gathered in a bunch the jars, cans, and bottles would form a monument to this popular fruit as big as the stand pipe in the court yard park.

Final Settlement.

Notice is hereby given to all creditors and others interested in the estate of Lelanda Bridgman, deceased, that the undersigned administrator in charge of said estate, intends to make a final settlement of said estate at the next term of the Probate Court of Holt County, State of Missouri, to be begun and held at Oregon on the 11th day of November 1901.

JAMES F. BRIDGEMAN, Administrator.

A Religious Awakening!

EVANGELIST LINCOLN MCCONNELL

Rev. Lincoln McConnell has aroused an extraordinary interest during the short time he has been here. His sermons, sound in doctrine, eloquently delivered, and spiced with his native Scotch-Irish, southern wit, cannot help but please the large congregations that assemble every night to hear him. During his young manhood days Mr. McConnell was for some time a Texas cow boy. Later in life, he served for a number of years as Prosecuting Attorney and as a city detective; hence he has a stock of circumstances gathered from his life and observations which he uses with rare tact in illustrating and impressing the points he wishes to make. He is a close observer of human nature, and both his humor and pathos have that quality of attention to details which makes his style attractive. He is ably assisted by his wife, and Mr. C. P. Curry, musical director. All three are excellent singers, and their solos, duets and trios are strong features of their meetings.

It is very evident that the ministers of the churches of Oregon made no mistake in planning a union revival meeting for the town and country about, nor in securing Evangelist McConnell and his singer, Mr. Curry. The meeting is now in the second week and from the first has attracted the thought and presence of the people. It is probable that Oregon never had a similar meeting that took hold of the hearts of the people as this one is doing. The singing is splendid and the evangelist is preaching the gospel in a plain, bold attractive way, and it is proving to be what the scriptures claim for it, viz: "The Power of God unto Salvation." The first days and evenings were spent in preaching without extending invitations to make a profession of faith in Christ as a Saviour, but now each night this invitation is extended and scores are accepting it. The influence of the meeting is being felt not only in town but in all the country around, and it is the ardent hope of those who have it in charge that its influence for good will still widen and widen. It is an earnest effort to help men to declare for a clean and pure life, such as the Savior of men wishes them to possess and it is a splendid thing to see the way the people appreciate the effort.

The largest attended meeting of men only ever held in Oregon, was the one conducted by Evangelist McConnell in the tabernacle on last Sabbath afternoon. It was just such a talk as every man and boy every where ought to hear and heed. The Presbyterian church on last Sabbath afternoon at the meeting conducted by Mr. McConnell, for women and girls only, was packed to its utmost and is said to have been a splendid talk.

There are many conversions at the tabernacle meeting every night. On Tuesday night alone there were 42.

A meeting for women and girls only will be conducted in the tabernacle on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Evangelist McConnell. It is hoped many women and girls from the country can make it suitable to attend.

A meeting for men and boys only will be held in the tabernacle on Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock. This was a great meeting last Sabbath and will doubtless be again.

Mrs. McConnell will conduct a meeting for women and girls only in the Presbyterian church Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Services in the tabernacle at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon and at 7:30 each evening all next week.

C. P. CURRY, MUSICAL DIRECTOR.

Mr. Curry is making the music a very attractive feature of the services. The choir has now grown to one hundred, and with two organs and the aid of several members of the Oregon orchestra with their instruments, they make music well coming miles to hear. Mr. Curry expresses himself as being more than gratified with the interest our citizens are taking in the singing. He says the members of the choir exhibit unusual talent, and that this will be as fine a body of singers as he has ever organized. The tent which is being used, no church edifice in the city being large enough to hold the audiences, will seat about 1,000 people, and it is thought a still larger tent will have to be ordered.

POTATOES.

We have just received a car of fancy Northern Burbank Potatoes which we will sell for a few days at $1.00 per bushel. These potatoes are fine cookers and elegant flavor. Now is the time to lay in your winter supply as they will be higher as soon as stored.
